Children are winners at bicycle rodeo

Children were the winners at a bicycle rodeo sponsored by the Kingman County Health Department and held Saturday, April 2 at Riverside Park in Kingman.

Trey Bough and Anthony Slinker, both of Kingman, each won a new bicycle. Every child received a new bicycle helmet just for participating.

Demonstrations were given on bicycle safety, including helmet fitting, bicycle maintenance and safe riding skills. The children also enjoyed a slow race that tested their balance skills, a “weave” ride between traffic cones and a fast race where their speed was checked by the radar on wheels.

The Health Department appreciates the parents and children who came to the event and enjoyed interacting with them. The department also would like to extend its sincere thanks and appreciation to all of the volunteers who generously gave of their time, including Scott McDonald, Blake Thimesch, David Lux, Randy Hill, Dustin Cooke, Amber Barratti, George Ontiveros, Levon Crotts, Michael French, Fred Simon, Joe Hageman, Stephanie McKennon and the City of Kingman.

Thanks also to the following businesses and individuals for donations that made this event possible: Kingman True Value, Xperience Salon, State Farm Insurance, Bombshell Studios, Becky Hart, Kingman Drug, Kingman Chiropractic, Factory 233, Kanza Bank, Cleo's Flower Shop, Floyd Real Estate and White's Foodliner. And a special thanks to the Kingman County Health Coalition for donating the funds to purchase the bicycle helmets.
